

I've been modeling for a store front for the past week. I have made candy, bottles, boxes and a shelf to go with it. I plan to start using some of the stuff today. Eventually I'm going to distort a lot of the objects and make them look a little trashier because it's supposed to be a store in the apocalypse. But I think using now will make it easier

